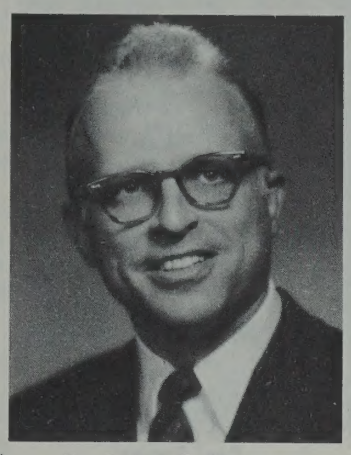
JANUARY 13, 1962 ST. MICHAEL'S COLLEGE, WINOOSKI, VERMONT VOL. 15 NO. 10

Dr. Spencer to Capital Replaced by '54 Alumnus

by Jack M. Howe

Dr. Robert C. Spencer, head of the Political Science department at St. Michael's and a Vermont State Senator, has accepted a fellowship to serve on the staff of the Democratic National Committee in Washington. The post was offered by the Citizenship Clearing House and will last about a year. Little additional information is available at this writing since a formal announcement has not been made. Dr. Spencer is expected to leave around February 1st.



Dr. Robert E. Spencer

To fill the gap, Mr. Cleveland Williams will come to St. Michael's College as a replacement. Mr. Williams graduated from St. Michael's in 1954 where he was a Dean's List student majoring in Sociology. On the hilltop, Mr. Williams was active in several campus organizations and a member of Delta Epsilon Sigma, the Catholic honorary society.

Mr. Williams completed his Doctoral studies at the University of Southern Illinois. He will be awarded his Doctorate in Political Science in June. A most welcome addition to our faculty it is hoped Mr. Williams stay at St. Michael's will prove both profitable and enjoyable for him and students alike.

Brother's Chant On Record

by Tom Vailette

Last March, a record company came to Enders Island.

So! What of it! What is Enders Island? And where is it?

Well, it is a small 10 acre island just off Mystic, Conn. It is the Novitiate for the Society of St. Edmund. All Edmundite novices spend 12 or 18 months there preparing for the priesthood or the brotherhood.

In March of 1961, the Folkways Record Company came to the island to make a record which is numbered FR-8954.

The record was cut by all the novices and postulants present at the time, - there were about 12.

They sang Gregorian Chant, which they practice daily in the chaple. Some of the more well known selections are Kyrie, Gloria, Sanctus, and Salve Regina.

Among those who participated are five Brothers, all fresh out of Enders Island, who arrived back on campus in September for further studies. They are Brother John Mahoney, Brother David Ryan, Brother William Goyette, Brother Arthur Goyette, and Brother Nicholas Nappi.

The record was made with the portable tape recorder, amplifiers, and mikes of the record company. Because the tape was made in the chapel, it was two tedious days before the record company could pack up and go home. The chapel is not sound proofed as a record studio is. Many good cuts had to be scratched because unwanted noises showed up in the playbacks.

The record was the brainchild of Marie Pierik who teaches the chant at the island. Miss Pierik had been specializing in Gregorian Chant for 34 years. She has taught it at the University of Seattle, Creighton University in Omaha, the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music, the American Conservatory of Music in Chicago, as well as under the auspices of many bishops. She has also taught at colleges, convents, notitiates, and two monasteries.

During World War II, she made a long and weary trip to Camp Upton, Long Island about three times a week to teach chant to the war prisoners on a voluntary basis. It didn't take her long to collect 25 avid students who were once compared to "the best on the continent."

If any Michaelman would like to hear how the record sounds, it is used as the theme on Fr. ZITER'S Double Ring Hour Monday through Friday at 10:15 on WSSE.

If you should be interested in buying a copy of the record, it can be ordered through a local record shop.

The record to ask for is "Gregorian Chant Sung by the Edmundite Novices." The number of the record again is FOLKWAYS FR-8954.

FR. Morin Inaugurates New Reading Program

by Mike Battenfeld

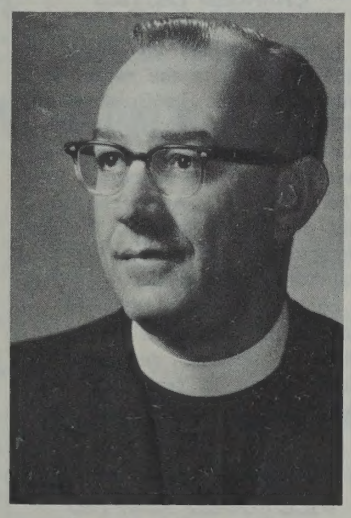
In order to aid Michaelmen in the successful completion of their college career, the college will sponsor a developmental reading program to be conducted by The Reading Laboratory, Inc.

Rev. Paul Morin, SSE, Academic Dean, in an interview for the MICHAELMAN, announced this program will be open to all students. Father Morin emphasized that, although certain students have been asked to participate, this program would benefit greatly any student who choses to participate.

Basically, the Developmental Reading Program gives the students the ability to read meaningfully at maximum pace, apply variable reading rates best suited to the reading matter at hand, master lengthy reading assignments at the level of college requirements, perform to full capacity on timed tests that require reading, and to read more non-required books.

The program takes 23 hours and is spread over a period to suit the students convenience. It starts with a Reading Skills Survey which evaluates the student's ability. After the Survey, a Reading Counselor has a private discussion with the student in which the student is told the nature of his present reading patterns and is given an estimate of the gains in reading performance he may expect to make by the end of the period. After the survey, the student spends 21 hours in training with the counselor, working at a variety of tests that contribute to the over-all development of skillful reading habits.

It should be noted that while the basic structure of the training program is uniform for all, its details are carefully tailored to meet special requirements of the individual. No group or mass methods are used.



Rev. Paul Morin, SSE

The benefits of this program are improved comprehension, concentration, critical abilities and reading rate. In addition, the student will develop an increased. useful, and accurate vocabulary. These reading skills will aid the student in his scholastic work and make him an intelligent and critical reader.

The program is scheduled from January 29 to March 24, 1962. The announced deadline was January 8, however, Father Morin will accept applications up to January 16.

Seniors Nominated For Grant

by John Babiel

Dr. Edward J. Pfeifer has announced the names of several outstanding St. Michael's College seniors who were nominated by the faculty to compete for the Woodrow Wilson National Fellowships.

They are Peter Wursthorn, David Drew, James Van Wagenen, and David Coupal. Paul Upham was also nominated but withdrew.

Messrs. Wursthorn, Drew, and Van Wagenen have also been nominated for the Danforth Fellowship Program.

The aim of the Woodrow Wilson Fellowship Foundation is to promote highly qualified college teachers primarily in the fields of humanities and social sciences. Occasionally, when a clear preference for teaching is demonstrated, candidates from the natural sciences are also considered.

Each year, the Woodrow Wilson Fellowship Foundation fully supports 1000 carefully selected Fellows in their first year of graduate work.

The Woodrow Wilson Fellowship Foundation, established nationally in 1952, grew out of a fellowship program at Princeton University originally established in 1945. Underwritten by the Association of American Universities, the Carnegie Corporation, and the General Education Board in 1952, the Foundation became national in scope.

A significant grant from the Ford Foundation in the spring of 1957, made it possible to increase the number of fellowships to 1000 a year.

President To Talk To Alumni

Very Rev. Gerald E. Dupont, SSE, president of St. Michael's College, will greet Syracuse area, alumni at a President's Dinner Sunday, January 14.

The dinner will be held at the Half Pence Room of the Syracuse Sheridan Motor Inn at Thruway Exit 35. Dinner is at 5:30 following a social hour.

Fr. Dupont, a member of the executive committee of the National Catholic Education Association, college and university department, will be returning from a meeting at Cleveland. Known as the man behind the "St. Michael's Plan", Fr. Dupont was academic dean for 12 years before being named president in 1958.

In the Syracuse area, the chairman is George J. Dolan, East Syracuse, N.Y.

In the Rochester area, the chairman is Atty. John F. Burke, Rochester, N.Y.

In the Utica area, the co-chairmen are Kevin J. Kearney, Clinton, N.Y. and Frederick H. Jones, Jr., Whitestown, N.Y.

Student Conduct Better At Recent Ball Game

It has been noted by many members of the faculty that there has been considerable improvement by the students in regard to booing the opponents and officials. It is proper and fitting to support the team but there is no need to be ungracious to our guests. It is hoped this will continue to be the practice in all home games.

H.S. Teachers Learning Here

Teachers who need a course in "The Secondary School Curriculum" will be able to earn three graduate credits at St. Michael's College, Saturday mornings, starting February 3.

Dr. Robert C. Spencer, director of Graduate Study, said that Mrs. Ruth K. Izzo, Ph.D. will teach the 15 week course.

More than 30 teachers, including four from Montreal, are taking the current Saturday morning class in the "Teaching of Social Studies in the Secondary School."

Mrs. Izzo has taught the past two summer sessions at the University of Vermont. She received her Bachelor of Science degree from Indiana State College, her Master of Arts degree from Teachers College, Columbia University, and her Doctorate in Education from New York University. She has also taught at the Plattsburgh and New Paltz Teachers Colleges in New York and in the public schools of Great Neck, N.Y.

Teachers and other interested in earning the three hours of graduate credit may enroll at the office of the St. Michael's Registrar, 8:30 to 4:30 daily and to 12 noon on Saturdays.

St. Michael's College students bled 170 pints Friday for the Burlington Red Cross Bloodmobile. That was 20 pints over their quota in the first drawing of the school year.

THE EDITOR'S NOTES

Well a new year has been ushered in here on the Hilltop. 1962 promises to be an eventful year for St. Michael's and her Students.

TEAM EXCELLS

For one thing, the quadrangle will be completed and dedicated. It might be well for us to write off the 1961 record of our basketball team and continue in '62 with many repeats of last Saturday night's win over Merrimack. The teamwork that was exhibited at that time makes us wonder how such a team could lose five. There were no standout performers as such; all played well. UVM had better watch out!

CARS NOT STOLEN BY STUDENTS

1961 wasn't so lucky in many respects. The ill-fated melee with the Winooski firemen earned us some poor publicity in the nation's press. But our luck is changing. During the vacation, four stolen cars were found in the campus parking lot. Luckily, the cars were stolen after our students had gone home for vacation. But we'd better not bank on luck. There's work to be done.

MR. DOYLE RETURNS

It appears that our Mr. Doyle has won in his difference of opinion with the Army. His letters that flooded the press and the assistance of the new Speaker of the House, Rep. McCormick turned the trick.

McKEON ROMPS IN LAW TESTS

Many other individuals have shown promise of better things to come in '62. In addition to the basketball squad, senior David McKeon is to be commended for his work in forming the English club and his outstanding mark of 638 in the law school tests. Student Forum President Upham scored a 603 and this ranked him in the top 15% of the nation, so you can imagine where Mr. McKeon's mark placed him.

LITERARY MAGAZINE DUE

The MICHAELMAN has seen the proofs of the literary magazine that will be published soon and it looks like it will be a success. It would seem that the long-awaited financial assistance for this magazine will be merited in the future. Editor Vaughn Keller and faculty moderator Mr. Gore are to be commended here.

41-YEAR OLD JUNIOR EXCELLS

Junior Paul Bonette is to be commended for his scholastic achievements at the age of 41. Married, he is obtaining his college degree at great sacrifice and doing outstanding work.

SIMMONS NEW ASS'T -EDITOR

Sophomore Paul Simmons is to be commended for his excellent verse column in the last MICHAELMAN. For this and for his overall interest in the college paper, the editorial staff is happy to announce his appointment as assistant news-editor of the MICHAELMAN.

And there are the dozens of others who have not received public aclaim for their work but who are doing a terrific job. It seems that St. Michael's is coming up in the world, and it is only through the work of the students that this is possible, for empty buildings mean nothing.

So optimism is the note with which we begin the new year. With a long, bleak winter ahead, we perhaps will need this optimism to endure until the warmer weather appears. But it shouldn't be too dufficult with a rejuvenated basketball team and the continuing hard work of the students in all fields.

While this editor was covering the lecture of Paul Harvey, he had the opportunity to meet both Mr. Harvey and Governor F. Ray Keyser, Jr.

Mr. Harvey was quite pleased to knowthat he has a following at St. Michael's. While he could not be induced to outwardly indicate his preference for conservatism, he did mention that after so many years of pseudo-intellectual falsity that accompanies the liberal theories of politics, he could well reason why so many students are flocking to the conservative spirit, if for no other reason than the lesser of two evils.

Harvey appeared very responsive, warm, and friendly. Attired in tailor-made clothes, the tall, handsome man appeared more of a politician than a newspaperman. But his ebullient spirit and quick mind could not hide the fact that he is a mosthighly opinionated man.

Governor Keyser, also, proved to be the amiable friend of all the people that a good politician always is. He leaves one with the impression that he is extremely interested in each and every person that he meets.

When this editor asked his opinion on the recent selection of St. Michael's professor, Dr. Spencer, as member of the Democratic policy making committee in Washington, the Governor made the usual platitudes, about its being an "honor" but added in a typical Republican way, "It won't amount to much!"

The Governor also mentioned that St. Michael's students should know that work and determination are the only prerequisites to success. He is one of the top ten men honored in the United States by the national Jaycees.

Both men sent their best wishes to the students of St. Michael's College.

Harvey Preaches Patriotism

by Raymond K. LeRoux

"All men are not created equal." This was the theme of Paul Harvey, noted columnist and radio commentator, at the Burlington Junior Chamber of Commerce dinner at the Hotel Vermont, Monday night, January 8.

In as militant and patriotic a talk as Burlington has heard in a long time, the Oklahoma native, affiliated throughout 350 radio stations and 100 newspapers, opened the talk with his familiar "Good evening, America!" He immediately swung into his topic with the warning "the United States may not survive!"

RELIGION AND PATRIOTISM

Quoting the Bible often, the roller coaster voiced newsman indicated that the primary source of our decline was the disappearance of a purpose for our survival.

A master of the cliche and the stock expression, Harvey outlined in detail his philosophy of the moral ills of America in a captivating, dynamic talk that was often interrupted with rounds of applause.

"Americans have obscured the meaning of America. The original Americans came not to do what they wanted, but to do what they ought." Quoting the Lord's Prayer, Harvey said that Americans should follow the mandate of Jesus, who said "Thy will be done!"

RAGS TO RICHES TO RAGS

"In less than 200 years, Americans have or had amassed more than one half of the world's good things. Then we began to demand to be free. Free as a ~~drifting~~ balloon without any purpose."

"When we turned from God, we began losing . . . . ." remarked the man who has as devoted a following as there is in America today. Harvey then began a long contrast between Communism and America. He said that Communism is a godless religion, nothing more, nothing less. He also saw the trend in governments to compromise individually and collectively as the greatest indication of our ineptitude.

DIDN'T SELL DEMOCRACY

Harvey declared that our founding fathers did nothing to force our way of life on others, did not have foreign aid programs, did not have paid propaganda, did nothing, in fact, to sell America. Yet, America was the most emulated country in the world and drove most of the dictators out of office.

These were not common men, he pointed out. They had no elaborate laws to hide behind. He cried out for a return to the "basic ten", that guided these men and for a "priesthood of the laity" to give example to the rest of the world.

FED UP WITH COMMON MEN

Then began a rather violent dismissal of the "common" or "equal man." "I am fed up with the common man", he said. "The politicians promise us the common man will be better!" "The common man is nothing more then the best of the lousiest."

"We have sacrificed quality for equality!"

BEFORE COLLECTIVE SECURITY

We led in the world because we did not buy collective security, said Harvey as he denounced the actions of both political parties. He also took sideswipes at the theory behind foreign aid and the Peace Corps. "Whole continents freed themselves, taking our example, without Vassar girls to sit in mud huts!" "We made no concessions to foreigners."

We have become so regulated and regimented by laws, Social Security and insurance, remarked Harvey, that "perhaps the leader of the Communist nation was right when he said that we are not competent to govern ourselves. We have become so used to the idea that the world owes us a living, that we take for granted the world that we are losing."

What we take for granted, Harvey said, was not only America, but even God. "How can we atone for payola, plugola and the rest, with one hour on the Sabbath?" Here, Harvey quipped that we sow seed for six days and pray for crop failure on the seventh.

CHANGED TACTICS

Lenin remains unchanged in theory. Marx is the same. The only difference in Communism today, said Harvey, is that Russia has adapted and adjusted its tactics to fight an economic war. The battlefield is American cities and our Main Streets. We are engaged in the battle. We are warriors. Krushchev said,, in a book published in 1959, that as capitalism replaced feudalism when it became decadent, so Communism is replacing capitalism for the same reason.

WILL ROGERS ADAPTED

Here, Harvey chose to adapt the words of a fellow Oklahoman, Will Rogers, to the present. In this manner, he took pot-shots at President Kennedy and our "give-away program." Remarking, that as an OBJECTIVE reporter, he had no political affiliation, he said that he would have voted for Kennedy if he would have been sure beforehand that Kennedy would have sent former Michigan Governor G. Mennen "Soapy" Williams to Africa "to be punched in the nose." Harvey also made the remark that our two newest states, Alaska and Hawaii, would have done better if they would have become full-fledged foreign countries.

Mixing humor with his serious message, Harvey also remarked that the cigarette manufacturers of America had assured him that cigarettes are now cancer-free. Harvey added the comment that "the only thing is, they make the filter so long that you are liable to get a hernia from sucking so long."

NOT LINCOLN'S FAULT

Returning to his serious side, Harvey glided easily to the source of our "misguided equality". It was not Abraham Lincoln's fault, said Harvey, he merely took it from the Declaration of Independence and this false equality was only there to win over French support in the Revolution. Even then, he continued, it directly omitted the divine right theory of Europe from the American scene.

Harvey quoted Admiral Rickover who said that the greatest thing that happened to this misguided theory was that someone discovered that the human intellect varied from 0 to 200 in IQ's.

"While America is deifying the common man, Russia has been exalting the uncommon man, and look who is ahead!" he said.

Here Harvey, once again quoting the Bible, recalled the Parable of the Talents.

"And if we lose this cold war, you are going to wish it was a hot one!" said the speaker, who switched from humor, to satire, to scriptural texts, to forebodings of doom so quickly and glibly that the audience of 350 was spellbound.

Self-reliance, individuality,and integrity to be the keynotes of our resurgence, not political theories, said the man who quickly pointed out how far from the dedicated conservative he can be. "The liberals would assist all and the conservatives would assist no-one!"

EQUALITY PER SE

"Simply because our accelerated society can produce a Ralph Bunche is no indication that Katanga and the Congo can do the same," said Harvey as he pointed out the distinction between equality and equality of opportunity. "We breed cattle, horses, even dogs. How then can we treat the human race with such indifference as to suppose them equal as such."

GOVERNMENT LAST RESORT

"No power can devise any method, whatsoever, to keep a good man down or a bad man up" said Harvey. "The will to live and to succeed is individual and not from a government. Government should be the last resort, not the first aid."

In summation, Mr. Harvey chose the Junior Chamber creed of following God first, then one's country and then one's own self.

Perhaps with tongue in cheek, he sought to revitalize the group with the thought that nowhere in America is the spirit to succeed and revitalize our society so strong as it is in the State of Vermont.

He reminded the group that the purpose for survival should center around the belief that there is a paradise, a heaven. This seemed in keeping with the general tone of his message, which, while crying decadence, offended no individual or religious creed.

SPEAKERS AND AWARDS

Governor Keyser also spoke briefly and the principal award, to Burlington Man of the Year, was awarded to Burlington Mayor Bing. Both gave typical talks, one plugging the State, the other, the City. Mr. Harvey was given a gallon of maple syrup by the Governor.

Harvey made three of his national broadcasts from WJOY while he was in the city.

STUDENT FORUM

RIOT BILL $2000.

by Vaughn Keller

1. The new constitution has been printed and will be made available to students in a matter of days.
2. Under the new constitution, all clubs must elect their officers, for the following year, during the first three weeks of the second semester.
3. The bill being presented to the Forum, for the "rally", will be in the neighborhood of $2000, president Upham reported. The Forum has $1,400 in its treasuryplus $500 which the game room netted. The "Rally Fund" yielded $150 to date and is still in progress.
4. Brian O'Connor has asked that the bill presented to the Forum be itemized. Mr. O'Connor said that is ounded to him as if there was "padding" going on.

YES, THERE IS A TV IN ALLIOT HALL

The committee that was asked to look into the TV situation on campus reported that they were assured by Father Coombs that the TV lounge in Alliot Hall would be used in the future. Father did not say what the use would be.

Brian O'Connor, acting as parlementarian, ruled that club representatives to the Forum must be elected by the clubs for the specific purpose of representation in the Forum. The president of a club is recognized as elected for this purpose.

DINING HALL CUTTING CORNERS

It was decided to investigate the possibility of packed lunches for skiers and week-end outings. In the past the Dining Hall performed this function and supplied the lunches if they were given a week's notice but they have refused to do so this year.

The Forum will ask to have a bench placed at the skating rink for the changing of skates and shoes. This came about as a result of the recent ruling which prohibits the use of Old Hall for such changes.

BILLIARDS AWAITS DEAN

A motion was passed to start an Interclass pool tournament pending the approval of the Dean of Men.

The Sophomores will sponsor a dance March 17 if the date does not conflict with the Bishop's ruling concerning Lenten observance.

SOCIAL CO-ORDINATOR????

Gary "A" Healy has been named social co-ordinator for the school. He will work with the Women's Colleges in the vicinity to try to eliminate conflicting dates for social activities.

The Jam Sessions will begin again, it was announced. The apparent strained relations between the Forum and the Administration over the recent Jam Sessions have been eliminated.

CAPITALISM AND YOU

by Paul B. Simmons

This week being the annual lull between the close of the old year and the issue of a survey of that year in the world of business, we have an opportunity to branch out a bit and report on another world, that of politics and people.

Here are some Christmas gifts which may or not have been exchanged by people we know . . .

From J.F.K. and Khruschchev, a booming business to bomb shelter manufacturers . . . .

From Barry Goldwater, Charlie Halleck, Everett Dirkson, Richard Nixon, Eleanor Roosevelt and William Buckley, a 20 volume edition of What We Would Have Done (on Berlin, S.E. Asia, Latin America, Africa and a special, bonus volume on Cuba) to J.F.K.

From Richard Nixon to Nelson Rockefeller, a family portrait (with lovable lap dog) autographed with: "From all of us at the Nixon home to you . . . and lots of luck in '64!"

From Nelson Rockefeller to Barry Goldwater, a life subscription to The New York Times.

From Jimmy Hoffa . . . a framed, souvenir court summons (voided) with the inscription: "From all of us at the Depot" . . . to Robert F. Kennedy.

To Abraham A. Ribicoff from the Newburgh N.Y. City Council, the original copy of the Newburgh Welfare Code (revised).

To Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, the novel A Farewell To Arms . . . from the Army Reserve Office Corps.

To Martin Luther King, from the Interstate Transportation Association, a one way (non-stop) bus ticket to Fairbanks, Alaska.

The Premier Khrushchev, a cancelled laundry ticket from "The Boys in Peiking".

To Richard Nixon from Dwight Eisenhower . . . the current best-seller, The Making of the President, 1960.

To Eleanor Roosevelt from J.F.K., the novel, "Daughter of Silence".

To Jimmy Hoffa, the novel, My Life in Court from Robert Kennedy (and staff).

The Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman, a dozen eggs, a bushel of corn and two sacks of wheat (with nasty letter) from the Farm Bureau Federation.

To F.C.C. chairman Newton Minnow, a season pass to "The Jack Paar Show" . . . from Robert Sarnoff.

To George Romey, Republican presidential hopeful, a framed copy of his Mexican birth certificate from Barry Goldwater in exchange for standing room tickets to "A Midsummer Night's Dream".

And finally, to John Fitzgerald Kennedy, a gilt-edged ceremonial sword bearing the inscription: "For outstanding service rendered to your motherland - wherever that may be." . . . from the John Birch Society.

Placement News

The ten, twenty, or thirty minutes spent with an interviewer may well determine the entire future course of your life. It will decide if you are the person the company is looking for in their organization and whether or not you get the particular position you desire with the firm.

Before a prospective employee is hired he may write only one resume, one letter and take only one test but without question, he will be interviewed many times by various persons at all levels of the organization. The interview is certainly the one step a prospective employee can't study or practice or re-write like a letter, resume, or test. The only help one can hope to get on his performance in an interview is through his own self-study and self criticism.

The rare exception to receiving a resume critique is the yearly R.O.T.C. interview held for the Sophomores at this time of the year.

For here the interviewing body or board consists of various faculty members who are interviewing the student so that he will have an indication of his performance, outstanding, average, or below average. This information is for the student for the purpose of his improvement.

The Placement Office can only wholeheartedly encourage the Sophomores to take advantage of these R.O.T.C. interviews which start Monday. The Seniors are advised to see as many company representatives on campus as possible and to judge their own "score" through the interviewer's reactions and their own self criticism. Unfortunately, the Seniors don't have the Sophomore's advantage of the R.O.T.C. interview.

As a closing reminder, the interviewers are seeing you to hire or help you not to trip you up.

Crown & Sword Seek Members

Members of the Sophomore Class who are interested in the Crown and Sword Society should submit applications on or before February 3. Any individual applying for membership in the Society must have a minimum cumulative scholastic average of 75% as of the previous quarter.

The following guide is for convenience in filing your application with the Society. All applications must be typed in DUPLICATE and must follow the form of a standard business letter, including the following:

1) Full name - campus address - hall phone number.

2) Resume of all honors accumulated. (Academic and other.)

3) Resume of all co-curricular activities in which you have actively participated.

4) Resume of all the activities you have seen the Society perform in your years at St. Michael's College.

6) Several well planned paragraphs explaining why you desire membership and what you could add to the Society as a member.

Applications should be submitted to Joseph Fusco, Lyons 215, Chairman of Admissions - Crown and Sword Society.

NO APPLICATIONS WILL BE ACCEPTED AFTER FEBRUARY 3.

The Michaelman staff would like to offer their condolences to Senior, Joseph Cironi, whose mother passed away away during the Christmas vacation after a lingering illness. Requiescant in pace.

From the University of New Hampshire comes a timely solution to the growing problem of College Nights. Since they are usually scheduled at the sole discretion of the individual college it is not unusual for several College Nights to be held simultaneously, making adequate representation impossible.

Harry Carroll of the University staff has tackled this problem and the end result has been a positive step in the direction of correlating and organizing the efforts of those colleges sponsoring College Nights.

In connection with Mr. Carroll's plan, Daniel F. MacDonald, Registrar and Director of Admissions, has agreed to participate as a permanent member of a committee appointed by Mr. Carroll to co-ordinate the efforts of the various colleges involved.

Armed Drill Team Challenged By UVM

by Paul A. Boucher

Among the Cadet Corps organizations is one which, in previous years, was a little regarded as any and usually assigned an insignificant position in the eyes of most cadets.

This year, however, the Armed Drill Team, or Honor Guard as it is also known, has completed its major assignment, Military Week-end Honor Guard, with flying colors, and is busily working on new ideas. Those cadets who attended the Week-end must certainly have appreciated the efficient work of traffic directing the night of the Ball, and their dates must have been impressed by the snappy guards at the doors.

The Honor Guard also served as escort to the Queen, and provided a guard at the Military Mass Sunday morning. Special mention must be made of Sophomore Cadet Thomas McGrail for his hard work in co-ordinating the efforts of the Honor Guard throughout the Week-end.

TEAM TO COMPETE

In the drilling department, the team is working out a routine in order to enter competition in the near future. They have already been challenged by the UVM Pershing Rifles group to a drill competition. With new rifles (which are on the way) and the able guidance of S/Sgt. Raymond Travis twice a week at the Winooski Armory, the team should be ready to take on the UVM team.

Cadet 1st Lt. Robert Poirier, Commander of the Armed Drill Team, has contacted the National Headquarters of the Pershing Rifles with the intention of inaugurating such a squadron on the Hilltop. The Pershing Rifles is a National Military Honor Society for basic ROTC cadets of the Army, Navy, and Air Force.

Future plans for the 24-man team include entering official competition, and a special display of skills at Parent's Week-end. To help him with these future plans Cadet Commander Poirier is ably assisted by T/Sgt. John Reid and S/Sgt. George Quinn.

The members of the team are:

Freshmen: Don Bray, Gerald Fox, Phil Hellreigel, Pete Marini, Frank McKevitt, Ed Quinn, Bill Serafin and James Stewart.

Post Card Riles Dinkleberry of CC

by Mike Battenfeld

Following up a lead that the Vermont Chamber of Commerce was up to its celluloid collar in a controversial scandal, I entered the Chamber's office in search of a story. There I was directed to the Chamber of Commerce president, Mr. Ira Dinkleberry who, at that moment, was bending over a mimeograph machine.

"Mr. Dinkleberry," said I, "I'm Joe Newshound of The Michaelman. I'd like to know what this controversy is all about."

"This", he gasped, as he handed me a post card. I scanned it quickly; it was written by one Mark Michaelman to his mother and, apparently, was intercepted by the Chamber of Commerce before it was mailed.

"How is this controversail?", I asked.

"Read it out loud," he commanded.

"Dear Mommy," I read, "Please excuse the post card, I'll try to write a letter next time. Vermont is very nice, except that everything is so slow. It rained all day yesterday and hasn't stopped yet. Hope to get home soon. Love, Mark."

"Do you see now?" he asked, "The whole thing is a slur on our fair state."

"I still don't get it," I admitted.

"Take this second sentence, 'everything moves so slowly, for example. That's a definite inference that Vermont is unprogressive."

"Isn't it?" I asked.

"Of course not." he replied, "Look what President McKinley said just the other day."

"But McKinley was assassinated in 1901," I protested.

"Fiddlesticks," said he, "If anything has happened to our dear president, the Free Press would have printed it long ago."

"Then there's no truth to the charge that Vermont is unprogressive?"

"Goodness me, no," he answered, "~~Wyh~~ we're just full of progress. Take a look at the new Burlington-Winooski-Essex Junction traffic light."

"You mean the new traffic lights at Burlington, Winooski, and Essex Junction, don't you?"

"I meant what I said," he replied, "the Burlington-Winooski-Essex Junction traffic light. Burlington uses it Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, then they bring it over to Winooski for Thursday and Friday, and then Essex Junction uses it the rest of the week."

"Is this the only objectionable point in the post card?" I asked.

"No, take a gander at this third sentence, 'it rained all day'. Now there is a slur on our beautiful Vermont weather. Everybody knows that the only rain we get is what blows over from New York. It's propaganda, all propaganda; he's trying to put down our lovely green mountains."

"But how do the mountains stay green," I asked, "if it never rains?"

"We paint them," he replied, and then continued. "And this last sentence, 'Hope to get home soon'. Why right there you have a statement that everybody wants to leave Vermont."

"But don't statistics prove that most of Vermont's young people leave the state to find jobs?", I interjected.

"It's a lie," he exclaimed, fingering the fob on his watch chain, "Land o' Goshen, there's plenty of thriving industries in Vermont where they can work. Look at the Ethan Allen Buggy Whip Company in Middlebury, or the big Gatling gun factory in Winooski, or the Stanley Steamer plant in Barre."

"But they don't make Stanley Steamers anymore, Mr. Dinkleberry."

"Nonsense, why just the other day I traded my Maxwell in for the latest model." With this, he turned to me and said, "We'll have to stop now, Mr. Newshound. There's a witch-burning today at two, and I still have to make copies of this slanderous post card card to distribute to the students at the University. Mark my words, we're going to run this Michaelman fellow right out of the state."

With this, I turned and departed, dropping a quarter in the box for the Cuban War Relief Fund on my way out.

What war?

Why, the Spanish-American war, of course.

Non-Citizens Must Register

Gov. F. Ray Keyser, Jr. (seated) presents signed proclamation to J. Leo Bagley, Burlington as Thomas S. Roney of Burlington and Bernard E. Steen of St. Albans look on.

Bernard E. Steen, District Director of the Immigration and Naturalization Service announced today that all non-citizens must report their addresses during the month of January, 1962 under a provision of the 1952 Immigration and Nationality Act.

He added that any alien who wilfully violates the alien address report requirement of the law may be fined up to $200.00, imprisoned for 30 days, and deported.

The District Director said that address report cards will be available at all United States Post Offices and Immigration Service Offices beginning January 1, 1962. Further information on campus is available at the office of Prof. Boulay, Aquinas 107.

Assistant Editor Lost In Bermuda

Would you regret to take an unexpected trip with room and board paid by someone else? "no," says one Michaelman.

While returning to St. Michael's on January 6 from his Christmas vacation in his homeland, Puerto Rico, Luis A. Villares, News Editor for The MICHAELMAN, hit the jackpot.

The PAA jet in which he was travelling was unable to land at the International Airport in New York because of poor weather conditions and had to deviate to Bermuda where all the passengers were guests of Pan American at one of the best hotels for 24 hours.

Luis considers this trip to have been a special gift on the Three Kings Day which is the main Christmas holyday in Puerto Rico.

ENGLISH FOR OTHERS

by Don Riley

"That's not the way to say it."

"I do not know of any other way to say it."

"What's the matter? You've been in this country for almost two months and your English is no better now than it was when you first 2 got here."

"I do not have practice enough."

"What d'you mean? Here you are on an English-speaking campus and you don't get any prictice speaking thelanguage. Why not?"

Let me answer that question. The complainant, who is obviously a foreign student, gets no practice because he knows no American students on whom he can practice his newly learned English. Yes, that's right. On a small campus such as this, with a reputation for friendliness, a democratic outlook on life, and virtually no snobbishness or discrimination, there is a substantial number of foreign students who are not on speaking terms with any American student or students.

"So what? They're stuck up and they don't want to get to know us." This is an excuse often given by Ameircan students when confronted with the situation.

"The American student is too busy with his own things to pay any attention to us." This is the foreign students' counter-part to the above excuse.

It seems to me that this apparent misunderstanding has arisen because of a certain inherent shyness on the part of both we Americans and out foreign guests. I hope that this has helped to clear up any misconceptions which have existed in the minds of anybody who would like to make the acquaintance of our guests but who was uncertain how his overtures of friendliness would be received. Be certain that you will be greeted with a warmth and a desire for friendship equal to, or surpassing your own.

Give it a try - you can't lose!

Trip Winner To Be Announced

Arrangements for this year's Junior Week end, to take place on the week end of May 4th, are well under way, under the co-chairmanship of Joe Curtin and Art Kohler.

On February 3 during the halftime of the St. Michael's-Assumption game, the winner of the trip to Nassau will be announced.

During the month of January, the Program Committee, headed by Ed Crane and Doug Parillo, will launch its campaign for soliciting advertisers for the Junior Week end Program of Events, which is expected to include many interesting features this year.

Also, the tentative date for P-Day has been set for March 23. Plans are being made for a program of events which will highlight the theme of "Camelot" which has been chosen for this year's week end. The P-Day phase of Junior Week end preparations is being planned by Joe Benkoski and Tom Dunn.

22In addition to the events planned for this day, the announcement of the bands for the week end will be made. This year negotiations are being made with several agents instead of one as has been done in the past, with the hope that some fine entertainment will be engaged.

The current popularity of the Twist will mean the probability of a rock and roll band playing Saturday afternoon of the Week end.

Seniors Win First Half Keep Lead In Kingpins

by Joe Mauceri

The first half of the interclass basketball loop has been complete. It's completion saw the first half honors go to the Sesniors with a five and one record. The Seniors were beaten only by the Sophomores in a 44-36 thriller. The men of 62 received outstanding performances from Tony Belanger, John Schlegel and Brian Mallon in compiling their five and one slate.

The Sophs were in second with a four and two mark. They received good performances from Tom Flaherty, Chuck Rogers, Dick Endrelunas and George Murphy. They were beaten only by the Seniors (50-35) and the Juniors (45-44).

The Juniors managed to gain third place while notching a 3-3 slate. Dick Powers, Jim Dyer, and John Conway played well for the 63'ers.

The Frosh brought up the bottom while going winless in six contests. It is expected that they will give a much better account of themselves during the second half competition.

GAME OF DECEMBER 11

School is back and so are the seniors; back on the winning tenpin path.

The seniors took 3 out of 4 from the sophs, while the juniors were having an easy time, sweeping 4 points from the frosh.

The seniors were led by Gilece, who compiled a 523 triple, along with a 212 single. Gilece's single was high for the night. Vogler spearheaded the sophomores with a 483 triple, and a 179 single.

Hartley and Ellig led the junior attack. The former banged the pins for a 537 triple, while Ellig had a 189 single. Hladik and Rademacher held the fort for the frosh in a losing effort. Hladik finished with a 510 triple, and Rademacher a 176 single.

The standings as of now are; the seniors, 28-16; juniors, 22-22; sophs, 21-23; and in last place, the frosh, 17-27.

One thing the frosh can be proud of, is that Bob Hladik still holds first place among the top five bowlers. He is followed by Gothers, 168-1; Boyer, 166-3; Hartley, 166; and in fifth spot is Gilece, 163-20. Hladik holds an amazing 173-7 average.

Bowlers Number One In Conference

By virtue of a win over the Air Force Academy, St. Michael's College Varsity Bowling team has landed in first place in the East-West Conference of the National Intercollegiate Bowling Association with a 10-2 mark.

There are six teams in the kingpin league, all with enrollments larger than SMC. Winners in the postal matches will meet face to face in the finals.

The Knights, in their last two matches, swept the Air Force Academy, 4-0 (2634-2549), and downed Grove City College, 3-1 (2618-2532).

In the AF match, Joe Cironi, Knight kegler, had the high single (203) and the high series (592). Bill Gothers is St. Michael's captain.

Conference standings:

St. Michael's	10-2
Arizona State	3-1
Oregon State	8-4
AF Academy	4-8
Portland State	2-6
Groce City	1-7

Captain Bill Gothers and his crew have rolled against Arizona State University and are awaiting the postal results. Their next match is against Portland State College. The team also includes Dick Gilece, Charley Boyer and George Hartley.

Booters In N.E. Soccer League

St. Michael's College has gained admission to the New England Intercollegiate Soccer League and "Doc" Jacobs, SMC athletic director, is busy expanding next year schedule.

St. Michael's in order to be eligible for the league championship, must play five league contests. This would seem to indicate that the upcoming schedule will have to be expanded.

Last year, the Knights played two league teams and wound up at .500 against their opponents. They lost to Middlebury, then rebounded to beat Norwich.

Along with St. Michael's, Assumption College was also admitted into the league. They share the honor of being the first Catholic colleges to qualify for admission in the league.

With everyone returning next year, the booters are expected to greatly improve on this year's 1-41 record.

Freshmen Smash UVM; Kazalonis Highwith 24

by Anthony Doti

The traditional battle for prestige between two arch-rivals found the UVM Frosh at the short end of an 82-60 trouncing at the hands of the young Knights as the season began.

St. Michael's Frosh held a 37-24 lead at half. They then proceeded to compile 43 additional points the second half, compared to the opponents 36.

The young Knights had five players in double figures, compared to the two for UVM. SMC was led by Kazalonis with 24, high for both teams. Kazalonis was aided by Kryger and Connelly, who had 14 apiece. The two others who had double figures were Quinn and Cummins, with 11 and 10 points respectively.

The two Vermont scorers were Brennan and D'Atilla, with 19 for the former and 15 for the latter.

The Frosh face St. Albans AFB Friday at 8 here.

SPORTLIGHT

by Jim White

After Saturday's performance of "Murder at the Auditorium" it seems as though the Knights are back in business. After running into tough luck early in the campaign, they look as though they are ready to come flying back. They open the defense of their state crown at Middlebury on January 17. Then they play Norwich and AIC before taking on the Colby Mules. Colby has beaten us the past two years so it should prove to be an interesting tilt.

Captain Al Baldini has hit the jackpot again. He was named to the all-tourney team due to his performance in Marine Tournament at Quantico, Virginia. Al scored 44 points in two games against Indiana State and Philadelphia Textile. He seems to be on his way to a great year, averaging 17.6 points for the first six games.

Last year he was nominated as All America honorable mention by the Catholic Digest was first team all state. Besides all this, he was elected to "Who's Who."

Junior Fred Cerrato has really come on strong in the last few games. He's hit for 11, 13, and 14 in the last three tilts. Against Merrimack, he played a tremendous floor game and even hauled in a rebound. That was an excellent job he did in holding their high scorer Damphousse to nine points! Previously Damphousse was second (24.6) to Fran Kasheta (25) of Norwich in New England scoring honors. Cerrato held him to 9.

Walt Baumann should get a round of applause for his performance. What can you do when he can murder you with either a deadly jumper or if you play him tight, he simply drives around you.

I'm sure I speak for the entire student body in wishing Jim Fitzgerald a quick revovery.

Averages for the first six games are as follows: Baldini-17.6, Baumann-15, Hoehl-11, Fitzgerald-10.8, Cerrato-7.1, and Eddie McDonnell tops the reserves with a 4.5 average. Ed has shown some terrific hustle and should prove to be a valuable asset in future games.

Contrary to the reports that have been circulating around campus, Merrimack did not beat Northeastern - they didn't play them!

An interesting note - Assumption topped all comers in the Springfield Invitational. We entertain them on Feb. 3. UVM lost the first game, then came back strong in the other tourney tilts.

Fran Kasheta hit for 34 points in a losing cause against Merrimack. He's the one who turned the tide in our 61-56 loss to Norwich last year.

Interclass hockey is being given a try this year. This year the players are on their own but it it proves successful, we might get some help in the future. Anyone interested in playing should contact the team captains.

I wonder what Merrimack's thoughts were when the official scorer starting cheering for St. Michael's?

Knights Roll Over Warriors

Big Walt Baumann seems gentle enough in this picture but turned killer against Merrimack. The big forward dropped in 26 points to lead the Knights to their first win.

Disaster struck our guests Saturday night at the Burlington Memorial Auditorium. The roof fell in and landed squarely on the heads of the Merrimack College Warriors. The reason - the sleeping giant from St. Michael's College has finally awakened and if this exhibition is accurate, he threatens to smash anyone who gets in their way. The score was 91-60.

The Knights finally showed to Merrimack what many had been waiting to see - that they are a destructive group of young men. The Jacobsmen had an 0-5 record going into the tilt and were determined that it was time for the streak to come to an end.

The Knights came into the game with a definite height advantage and they put it to good use. So complete was their height edge that they pulled down 26 rebounds from the boards in the first half while the Warriors were getting just one. This was coupled with a devastating "Box and one" defense which kept Merrimack outside and away from the basket. This coupled with a fantastic 68 per cent plus shooting percentage in the first half told the story.

BAUMANN BIG GUN

Walt Baumann was the big gun in the Hilltoppers attack as he ripped the cords for 26 points. Baumann was a driving demon all night and gave the Warriors fits. When they slacked off to guard the baseline, he simply popped in a few jumpers from the corner. Big Walt also gathered in an armful of rebounds, pulling in 10 in the first half alone.

Along with Baumann, Jim Fitzgerald gave the Knights an unbeatable punch up front. Jimmy clicked for 16 points and 13 rebounds, all in the first half. After 23 seconds of the second half, big Fitz was assisted from the court after spraining his ankle. It is hoped that he'll be ready for Middlebury on the 17th.

Outstanding in the backcourt was Fred Cerrato. Freddie hit on six out of nine shots from the floor and hit for 11 points in the second half. Fred was the key man in the defense as he keyed on Merrimack high scorer Roger Damphousse all night. Damphousse came into the game sporting a gaudy 24.6 ppg average and was humiliated by Cerrato and held to a measly 9 points. Cerrato outscored his man, clicking for 14 points.

Captain Al Baldini hit for 17 points and was especially tough on the drives. Baldini sports a neat 17 plus ppg average this year.

This was truly a team effort with perhaps Baumann and Cerrato being the outstanding players. Also impressive were sophmores Ed McDonnell and Don "Deacon" Jones. Eddie hit for 8 points and it was his long jump shot at the final buzzer that pushed the Knights over the 90 mark. Don Jones, while not breaking into the scoring column, displayed some good moves in the pivot and did a great job off the boards.

Skiers Return Prepare for Meet Feb.2-4

The ski team's meet at the Paul Smith's Carnival was cancelled due to lack of snow. Nevertheless, the Michaelmen are undaunted and are practicing jumping every afternoon at the college ski jump. They will be receiving instructions in the near future from the famous Sepp Ruschp Ski School at Stowe, Vermont. They will travel to Stowe one afternoon a week and instructors from the school will visit campus to help with any problems that might arise. Their list of future meets includes their own St. Michael's Carnival in the near future.
